

Welcome to the new Canada Life

Great-West Life is coming together with London Life and Canada Life to operate their businesses under one brand – the new Canada Life.

There's nothing you need to do. Each of our three companies will continue to operate as they do today. Your online account, policy coverage and contact details will stay the same. And while you may continue to see the Great-West Life name and logo for a little while longer, know that operating under the new Canada Life will help us serve you better.
