

May 21, 2019

Canada Life participating policyowner dividend scale announcement – 2019

The board of directors approved the recommendation of the company's actuary to decrease the 2019 participating policyowner dividend scale for all Canada Life™ open and closed block participating life insurance policies.

This change takes effect on July 1, 2019.

The dividend scale will stay the same for all former New York Life and former Crown Life policies.

Looking ahead

At least once a year, we review the participating policyowner dividend scale. This includes reviewing experience related, but not limited to, investments, insurance claims (also called mortality), expenses and other factors. This review determines whether the dividend scale needs to change.

For more information

- Participating account investment reports can be found in Rates, Values and Performance
- Further financial information can be found in Canada Life participating life insurance financial facts