See the Ongoing expenses section below for details.

It's important to note that this doesn't tell you how the fund will perform in the future. Also, your actual return will depend on the guarantee policy you choose and your personal tax situation.

How much does it cost?

The following table shows the fees and expenses you could pay to invest in or redeem units of the fund.

1. Sales charges

Sales charge option	What you pay	How it works
Preferred series 2 FEL option	Up to 2% of the amount you invest.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You and your advisor determine the rate. The fee is deducted from the amount you invest. It is paid as a commission.

2. Ongoing expenses

The fund expense ratio (FER) is the sum of the management expense ratio (MER) and the trading expense ratio (TER) and is payable from the assets of the segregated fund. You don't pay these directly, but they will reduce the return on your investment.

Normally, the MER includes the investment management fee and operating expenses of the fund as well as the insurance cost for the guarantee. These fees are normally deducted from the fund. The preferred series 2 FEL option is only available if you pay fees by redeeming units from your policy. The preferred series 2 fee agreement shows the fees you pay. These fees reduce the return you get on your investment. The advisory and management service fee is negotiable and the fee ranges between 0.50% and 1.25%.

The TER includes the trading commissions and other portfolio transaction costs.

Available additional guarantee options are subject to the following fees. You have to pay for these as set out below and this cost isn't included in the MER, TER or FER. For details about how the guarantees work, see your contract and information folder.

	MER (%) ^{1, 3}			TER (%) ¹	FER (%) ^{1, 2}
