How much does it cost?

The following table shows the fees and expenses you could pay to invest in or redeem units of the fund and will depend on the sales charge option you choose.

1. Sales charges

Sales charge option	What you pay	How it works
Back-end load units As of June 1, 2023, the back-end load sales charge option is only available for new contributions received from existing policyowners or for internal transfers as per our administrative guidelines.	If you redeem units within: • 1 year of investing, you pay 4.50% • 2 years of investing, you pay 4.25% • 3 years of investing, you pay 3.90% • 4 years of investing, you pay 3.50% • 5 years of investing, you pay 3.00% • 6 years of investing, you pay 2.35% • 7 years of investing, you pay 1.50% • After 7 years, you pay 0.00%	•When you invest, Canada Life pays a commission of up to 5%. Any early redemption fee you pay goes to Canada Life. •You can redeem up to 10% (20% for RRIF type policies) of your units each year without paying an early redemption. •The early redemption fee is a set rate. It is deducted from the amount you withdraw. •You can exchange to units of other funds under the contract at any time without paying an early redemption fee. •The early redemption fee schedule is based on the date you invested the premium.
No-load units	There is no fee to invest or redeem units.	•You can redeem units without paying an early redemption fee. •You can exchange to units of other funds under the contract at any time.

2. Ongoing expenses

The MER includes the management fee and operating expenses of the fund. The MER includes the insurance cost for the guarantee. You do not pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the return you get on your investment. For details about how the guarantees work, see your insurance contract.

Guarantee option	MER (Annual rate as a % of the fund's value)
75% maturity and 75% death benefit guarantee - Back-end load units	2.49
75% maturity and 75% death benefit guarantee - No-load units	2.49

Trailing commission

Canada Life pays a trailing commission for the services and advice provided to you. The trailing commission is paid out of the management fee for as long as you hold the fund. The rate depends on the sales charge option you choose.

Sales charge option	Trailing commission
Back-end load units	Up to 0.50% of the value of your investment each year.
No-load units	Up to 1% of the value of your investment each year.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you redeem or exchange units of the fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	Up to 2% of the value of units you redeem or exchange within 90 days of investing in the fund.

What if I change my mind?

You can change your mind and cancel the investment fund contract, the initial pre-authorized chequing premium or any lump-sum premium you apply to the policy by telling us in writing within two business days of the earlier of the date you received confirmation of the transaction or five business days after it is mailed to you.

Your cancellation request has to be in writing, which can include email or letter. The amount returned will be the lesser of the amount of the premium being cancelled or the value of the applicable units acquired on the day we process your request. The amount returned only applies to the specific transaction and will include a refund of any sales charges or other fees you paid.
