2. Ongoing expenses

The fund expense ratio (FER) is the sum of the management expense ratio (MER) and the trading expense ratio (TER) and is payable from the assets of the segregated fund. You don't pay these directly, but they will reduce the return on your investment.

The MER includes the management fee and operating expenses of the fund as well as the insurance cost for the guarantee. For Standard series and Preferred series 1, the MER also includes a fee that is paid to your advisor for the services and advice provided to you.

The TER includes the trading commissions and other portfolio transaction costs.

For Partner series and Preferred partner series, you will pay for the advisor's services directly through the redemption of units from your policy, known as an AMS fee. This fee is negotiable and ranges from 0.50-1.25%. This fee reduces the return you get on your investment.

Available additional guarantee options are subject to the following fees. You have to pay for these as set out below and this cost isn't included in the MER, TER or FER. For details about how the guarantees work, see your contract and information folder.

Effective November 4th, 2020 the lifetime income benefit (LIB) option is no longer allowed to be added to new or existing segregated fund policies, and no subsequent contributions can be made to policies with the LIB option as of this date.
